GAS COMPANY HOLDS HOUSE WARMING FOR PATRONS

A public house warming will be held by the Pacific Gas and Electric company at its new quarters on Main street today and tomorrow, September 5 and 6, according to Manager George Donovan. The office was opened for business Tuesday morning in the building adjoining the new Bank of Alameda County.

The new office will handle the business for the company in southern Alameda county, and all bills are to be paid at this office, it was announced.

There will be free favors given visitors at the door and hot coffee, cakes and cookies will be served between 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. each day. Mrs. A. V. Farnsworth, Home Service representative, will be in attendance daily to explain the electric and gas range and modern methods of cookery.

A large new electric sign has been installed on the front of the building, which compares favorably with any similar designation in the town in size and harmony with surroundings.

Miss Malvina Giustic, a graduate of Niles Grammar school, is now teaching popular and jazz music. Miss Giustic recently completed a course in music. She has five students studying jazz music.

HEAD-ON AUTO CRASH PROVES FATAL TO MAN; FOUR OTHERS ARE HURT

Sprinkles Predicted Twice This Month

September 5, 6—The first of two severe storms this month will enter over British Columbia and the Pacific northwest generally, causing local rains. Northern and central California will be affected by occasional cloudiness and a few sprinkles especially over mountainous regions.

September 7, 8—Will see passing of the above storm making it generally fair and warm.

September 9, 10, 11—Somewhat disturbed over northwest but on a whole fair here and along coast.

AWARD BRIDGE CONTRACT

C. A. Bruce and Sons, of Pleasanton, were awarded the contract for the Patterson bridge on the Centerville-Alvarado road, it was announced this week by the county supervisors. The bid was $42,325.

The contract for the Clark bridge on the Niles-Pleasanton highway, will be awarded next Tuesday.

Alameda County's Tax Duplicate Shows Loss Approximating $9,000,000 Over Last Year

BASIC rate for taxes in Alameda county this year will be seventeen cents higher than last year, it was learned at the close of a two weeks' session of the Alameda county board of supervisors. The basic rate will be $1.71 as compared with $1.54 in the past.

The tax rate for Niles will approximate $5.75, a check-up by The Register showed. This is not definite, however, and may vary a few cents either way.

There are many reasons for the increased basic rate, it was said. The principal reason was the fact that while the general fund was at a low ebb to begin with, the tax duplicate has been decreased approximately $9,000,000. The purchase of East Bay Water district accounted for $8,000,000 loss on the duplicate, and exemptions given ex-service men accounted for the other million.

Niles faces an increase of forty-five cents in its water tax due to the sale of the Alvarado Water plant, it was pointed out. These increases over which the county board of supervisors have control, added to the school and district taxes which they do not handle, will make up the higher levy.

The second highest fire district tax for Washington township falls to Niles. Newark must pay the most. The list follows:

Newark fire district, 30 cents.

Niles fire district, 17 cents.
Centerville fire district, 17 cents.
Alvarado fire district, 30 cents.
Decoto fire district, 16 cents.
The sanitary tax for Niles will total $1.38.

RENOVATIONS IN NILES BUSINESS DISTRICT PLEASING

Wesley Hotel Furnishes Bright Spot For Tourists

A walk down the main street of Niles reveals that the town is progressing, and with the contemplated improvements for the coming months, anyone having been away for a year would hardly know their "old home town."

There is the Wesley Hotel and Ice Cream Parlor glistening in its new paint, inside and out, the newly painted Dan Marble service station, the new bank building and the new Pacific Gas and Electric company quarters. The contemplated renovations include the Peterson apartments.

The work at the Wesley Hotel and ice cream parlor has been completed, according to A. Pratali and R. Cozzi, proprietors. The outside of the hotel was done in cream and blue, and the inside in green and gold.

In renovating their hostelry, Pratali and Cozzi have added another bright spot to the town, and is an especial pleasing sight to the hundreds of tourists passing through.

Breaks Neck In Fall

Miss Catherine Lugo, 30, Livermore rodeo performer, is reported to be in a serious condition in Three Link hospital, where she is suffering a broken neck, according to physicians. Her recovery is said to be promising. Miss Lugo was injured when her horse stumbled as she was attempting to put him over a hurdle. She was said to have been preparing to enter events at the state fair.

ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW PLANNED NEXT MONTH

The annual Fall Flower Festival sponsored by the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce to be held in the McKinley school on East Fourteenth street will exceed any previous exposition, according to Ralph W. Chrouh, manager of the organization.

Over 31,000 square feet of floor space will be required to house the flowers, entered from growers over all parts of the United States.

It is expected that 30,000 persons will visit the show, to be held next month. There will be no admission charge.

Niles Is Same Friendly Town Visitor Opines

NILES is just as friendly now as 21 years ago, in the opinion of Mrs. George Forbes, of Red Bluff, who spent a few days here last week with the J. D. Ferry family, after having been removed from the town for that long.

"But, my, what a change otherwise," she commented. "Practically all of the business blocks are new to me, the church and school are in different locations, and why Niles is almost a city in size compared to what it was when I left."

"I shall not stay away this long again," she concluded.

Mrs. Forbes was accompanied by her husband and children on her visit here. She is an old school chum of Mrs. Ferry. The Forbes' found it necessary for them to return to their home in Red Bluff Saturday in order to enter their children in school.

BUSINESS SHOWS BETTER TONE SAYS RESERVE BANK

Business activity in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District reached a high level during July. The agricultural outlook improved moderately, price movements, on the whole, were not unfavorable, and the supply of credit continued ample, although the price of credit advanced slightly.

Increased prices for many farm products and favorable weather, which benefited growing crops and facilitated early harvesting operations, were important developments in the agricultural situation during the month. Substantial advances in prices of wheat, potatoes and deciduous fruits pointed to an improvement in aggregate farm income. The announcement, on August 19, by the recently created Federal Farm Board, that it had agreed to extend substantial financial aid to California organizations engaged in handling raisin grapes, was an additional factor in the improved agricultural outlook.

The number of unemployed in the District is estimated to have decreased during July and was smaller than a year ago, a nat-

HOME RESTAURANT TO INSTALL NEW BAKERY EQUIPMENT

One's Own Favorite Recipe May Be Made Up By Experts

Expansion of the Home Restaurant, the popular dining room on lower Main street, to include a bakery department, was announced this week. The new enterprise will be ready for business Saturday of this week. For the present the same quarters will be occupied, although it is contemplated that larger quarters will be needed in the near future.

The new firm will be known as the Home Restaurant and Bakery. It will produce a full line of baked goods and pastries, but for the present no bread will be handled, the management stated. The restaurant will continue to be operated on the same high scale.

As a feature the Home Bakery will make a specialty of making cakes and pastries for persons from their own favorite recipe. As equipment exactly the same as used in the modern home has been installed, everything that comes from the Home Bakery will have been produced in the same manner that it is done in one's own kitchen.

Prices for everything will be in the popular range, it was said. Mrs. L. Costa and Mrs. A. Brant are the owners. Mrs. Costa will continue in charge of the restaurant and Mrs. Brant will operate the bakery.

AMERICAN LEGION PLANS MEETING FOR NEXT WEEK

Washington Township Post No. 195, American Legion, will hold its first fall meeting on Tuesday evening, September 10, it was announced this week. Inasmuch as there is considerable important business to be transacted, officials of the post have asked that all members be present.

The annual budget for building maintenance was discussed by the Building Committee at its meeting in the Niles Library last week. The erection of the new Legion home on Second street is progressing rapidly. Tile for the walls is now being shipped from the W. S. Dickey Clay Manufacturing Company.

Mosquito Abatement Program Is Deemed Necessary Here

Will Cost Taxpayers Only One Cent for Each Hundred Dollars

AN EFFORT is being made this week by the Niles Chamber of Commerce to make Niles a part of the county-wide mosquito abatement program. A petition is being circulated by members of the civic group among the registered voters of the town for the authorization of the movement.

The work was outlined at the first fall meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Florence Restaurant Tuesday noon by Harvey Braun, president.

It was announced that the work would cost the taxpayers but one cent per hundred dollars taxable property. While Niles has not been afflicted with the pests to any extent this year,

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

A CHANGED POLICY

THE TOWNSHIP REGISTER acknowledges a pleasant visit from Ralph W. Chrouh, secretary of the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce. The reader will remember that the editor of this paper and the gentleman referred to had some open correspondence relative to the Cherry Festival committee having purchased its printing in San Francisco, instead of in its home town. So it is, indeed, a pleasure, now, to let the world know that the Flower Festival, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of San Leandro, has not made that mistake nor shown the poor taste of those in charge of the former event in our sister town, for the posters adorning the windows of Niles which advertise the coming festival carry the imprint of San Leandro printers.

We congratulate the business men and women of San Leandro upon the commendable change of policy, and the Register wishes the Flower Festival the greatest success. The writer will attend himself, and urges his readers to do likewise.

And the genial secretary—well, we found him a splendid fellow, with projects planned, and many under way, to lift San Leandro up into the bright path of municipal progress.

SCHOOL DAYS—AND HAPPINESS

THE close of the vacation period and the opening of the schools in this city and elsewhere in the township have lifted the commercial and social life from a condition of lethargy to one of bustle and hustle. The streets are again active after a time of comparative quiet. Merchants are feeling with satisfaction increased sales and the towns are alive with children going and coming from school.

A changed expression is noticeable on the faces of men and women in the business world here. Optimism prevails, and a happiness is everywhere apparent traceable to a greater application to the tasks of the day. It may seem strange to some, but it is true that practically everyone is more contented when called upon to exert oneself to the full capacity of one's physical and mental strength. Happiness comes from being busy—of course, profitably. In the Spring most of us long for leisure, and wonder why the scheme of things demands that we "slave" that we may eat and enjoy some of the few luxuries of life. When our opportunity comes to play, we find, generally, that it fails to satisfy, and that the greater joy is found everyday in our particular tasks, and the association with those who work with us.

Vacation is over. And even the small boy, we believe, is glad to be back in school. It brings him in contact with his little friends, many of whom have been away during the summer. Perhaps in his little heart he has a deep affection—and possibly a love, such a love of which only an adolescent is capable—for some little miss who still lives in the doll world, but nevertheless at times has watched this small lad with more than passing interest. The little fellow knows he'll grow to be a man some day, and envisions the little girl the mistress of his home. So the romances of life begin often in the kindergarten. The little folks are bent on some serious thought, and he who thinks otherwise does not know very well little children.

September, then, means application. It means that the mind and the hands turn to constructive enterprise. It ushers in an era of the year when everyone is planning to make more of his business, be a better workman, a nobler father, a better housewife, a finer mother, a more superior student. Collectively, energy is loosened to make the home town an interesting place to live in; to command for it the respect and approbation of strangers who recognize civic worth.

Now, then, is the time for all factions to unite, to bury animosities, to subvert petty jealousies and mean and selfish ambitions for the good

REVISION LOOMS IN MEDITERRANEAN FLY QUARANTINE

California May Undergo Same Restrictions As Florida

While Washington Township is not as vitally interested in the Mediterranean fruit fly quarantine as are other sections of the state, nevertheless the fact that stricter measures are contemplated make it of importance to all fruit growers.

Important changes in the fruit fly program that have been proposed and the dangers to California which might follow if methods and quarantines should be altered as is being considered by the federal authorities were pointed out to the Governor's council at Sacramento recently by Director Hecke of the state department of agriculture. Hecke said in part:

"The federal regulations as to the Mediterranean fruit fly, based on the report of the committee of seven appointed by Secretary of Agriculture A. M. Hyde, have not yet been issued. As time passes, however, the approximate provisions of these regulations are becoming more evident. California's interest in them is acute, inasmuch as radical changes in the present policy are contemplated. It is apparent that the infested zones will be contracted, the quarantine lines will be straightened and changed to embrace the entire infested territory which may or may not be specifically designated as a separate zone. Infested fruit is to be destroyed. Fruit within certain distances, not yet specified, of infested properties will be permitted to move in interstate commerce after having been treated and certified under government supervision. It is reported that the treatment will consist of refrigeration, where proper equipment is available, for specified time and temperature. An alternative method of treatment will be heat, probably for ten hours at 110 degrees F.

"The proposal is under consideration to revoke the quarantine which since May 16 prohibited Florida grown host fruits and vegetables entry into 18 southern and western states. A shortened harvest season, terminating March 1 for grapefruit and April 1 for oranges, likewise is under consideration. The purpose of this provision is to increase the length of the host free period making it a full six months in duration. Coincident with the close of the designated harvesting period the prompt cleanup of orchards and other crops is essential. This consists of the destruction of culls, drops, non-commercial host, and complete orchard sanitation. Another change under consideration is the spraying within the infested areas. Up to this time this work has been done at federal expense by federal employees using federal equipment. The spray is a poison syrup, and as the summer rains wash it off its use is almost continual. About 10,000 acres are sprayed daily.

"The foregoing is a statement of the questions which have to be reckoned with in planning the eradication campaign as revised by the inclusion of the treatment idea. We in California have every reason to sympathize with Florida. That circumstance which had for its result the infestation of Florida could have happened and still can happen to California. Any federal aid which is extended to Florida now may be reasonably expected to be extended to California, if, as, and when our turn comes. Today it is Florida, tomorrow it may be California. Therefore, we must not ask for any restrictions on Florida for our protection that we would not be willing to accept if the fruit fly were in California and Florida were seeking protection. This was one of the reasons why the writer at the request of the governor went to Washington with a committee of California farmers to seek reimbursement for the losses of the growers. It is this consideration now which confirms our definite belief that an enabling act should be passed by Congress recognizing the principle of indemnity as applied to national emergencies such as this."

HURTS HAND IN TRAP

A bad laceration of the right hand and wrist was suffered by E. C. Pigeon, widely known sheep raiser, last Thursday, when the steel jaws of a coyote trap snapped over the limb. Pigeon was brought to Niles for medical aid.

Mr. Pigeon was setting the trap for the animal which has been preying on his flocks for some time.

WILD DUCK ARRIVING

Early winter is predicted in the arrival of wild ducks in the marsh lands bordering the southern bay regions, according to County Game Warden Fred Rogers, of Alvarado. The oldtimers, Rogers said, claim the early arrival of the birds forecast cold weather soon.

The duck are coming in large flocks, according to Rogers, and the shooting this year will be better than for many seasons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richmond and son will leave this week for a few days at the state fair at Sacramento and a vacation at Richardson's Springs.

AUTO WRECKS FREIGHT TRAIN NEAR MT. EDEN

When an auto wrecks a train it is news!

Just that happened early Sunday morning when the automobile said to have been driven by S. C. Wright of San Francisco, crashed into a Southern Pacific freight train near Mt Eden and derailed four oil tank cars.

Wright's machine was thrown against a fence where it burst into flames, from which passing motorists rescued him, it was said by witnesses. Wright was taken to a hospital in San Mateo where his wounds were dressed. He suffered a dislocation of the jaw, several broken teeth and many contusions.

The accident was said to have occurred when, as Wright approached the crossing, the oil tank cars, having a high clearance, were passing, and because of the high clearance, the tracks appeared to be clear, police were informed.

ELAINE ALAMEDA BECOMES BRIDE OF FRANK LEWIS

Miss Elaine Alameda and Frank Roger Lewis, formerly of Niles, were united in marriage in a beautiful ceremony at the Corpus Christi church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Several hundred friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony.

Mrs. Lewis is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Alameda of Niles. Mr. Lewis was formerly manager of the Mutual store in Niles.

The happy couple, after a wedding trip, will make their home in Redwood City.

'INNOCENTS OF PARIS' WONDER PICTURE OF SEASON

When Maurice Chevalier made his debut at the Ziegfeld Follies in New York, critics cried his praises. They said he was Will Rogers, Charlie Chaplin and Al Jolson all under one straw hat, and predicted the film he had just completed, his first for the moving picture public, would be a success.

That film, "Innocents of Paris," was presented by Manager Helm at the Niles Theatre yesterday, and the acclaim with which it was greeted by Niles theatre audiences shows that the New York critics were right. Chevalier is a success.

It is difficult to describe the intangible quality of mimic art which this idol of the French stage yields over his audiences. Young and old take him to their hearts. In the least no man, woman or child should fail to see this king of minstrelsy and pantomime, Maurice Chevalier.

There are two more chances to see "Innocents of Paris" today and Friday. It is a hundred per cent talking and singing film.

For those who dote on Westerns, the offering Saturday will please. It will be "The Lariat Kid" with Hoot Gibson in the lead role.

Coming Sunday and Monday will be "The College Coquette," a smart collegiate picture that has been received with praise everywhere it has been shown. There are such stars as Ruth Taylor, William Collier, Jr., and Jobyna Ralston in the cast.

The Story of Nig-- A Very Black Dog

(From The Pleasanton Times.)

Nig is dead. Long live Nig!

Watcher of the morning train, custodian of the Post Office and guardian of the mails, rider on trucks and in Fords, rancher, gentleman of leisure, and just plain dog, Nigger, Blackie, Nig or Jet, depending upon who was calling and what for, beloved by everyone who knew him and avoided by the rest, owned by many and belonging to none, this canine paradox has gone the way of all flesh, has died from acute pedestrianism, unable even to voice a protest to the thing of steel and rubber that struck him down.

His history is a long and varied one. Whence he came is as shrouded in mystery as whence he has gone now that he is dead. Suffice it to say that some twelve years ago, a long, long time to lead a dog's life, he arrived from some where or no where and was adopted into the family of Kenneth Graham, son of the local postmaster. There he abided and was happy annoying, the neighbors until Kenneth went off to college. After that the Graham domicile had little attraction for him and off he went.

He next took up with George West, riding back and forth from the Post Office to the train every morning with the mail, keeping all the while a jealous eye against malefactors or evil-doers, and woe betide the careless person who should lay a hand on the conveyance while Nig was on duty.

He early found bosom friends in the conductors on the morning trains, and soon inveigled them into sharing their breakfast with him...in fact, he demanded it, was it not his right? Did he not guard the mail?

From the mail truck he graduated through various stages and with a variety of owners until recently he was generally recognized as self-appointed footman and assistant chauffeur on the conveyances of the Electric Service shop, having come there with Sam Elliot, who took him in after a misunderstanding with his former owner, rumor hath it.

From time to time he paid a visit to the ranch of Joe Anselmo, possibly to get away from the hustle and bustle of city life...out into the great open spaces where dogs is dogs, and all that sort of thing. Regularly, quite, he also paid a Sabbath day visit to his old home...just to see how the old folks were getting along, and that no outsider had usurped his rightful place by the family fireside.

Nig was a peculiar hound, ugly, black as Satan and twice as mean when he wanted to be, given to temperamental outbursts, but withal possessed of that strange and ineffable thing called personality, often granted to those less fortunate than others in the way of physical beauty. He was in many ways much as the proverbial Frenchman likes his coffee: Hot (tempered) as the devil, sweet (dispositioned, when he felt like it) as Sin, and black (always) as a woman's heart.

He wanted nothing so much, especially in his later years, as to be left alone. He loved those the most who bothered him the least, and from time to time gnawed the anatomy of various inconsiderate person who failed properly to respect his exclusiveness.

It was this temperamental flaring up that early got him into trouble. When he first arrived on the scene, perchance via Western Pacific, perhaps caught riding the rods and kicked off by a hard hearted boomer, he committed some canine indiscretion or another and was tied up. The curtailing of his rightful freedom aroused such resentment in his breast that he became quite desperate in brooding over it, and decided that old Pat Henry was right...

Remarkable Six-Cylinder Engine
Chevrolet's remarkable six-cylinder engine impresses you most vividly by its sensationally smooth performance. At every speed you enjoy that silent, velvet-like flow of power which is characteristic of the truly fine automobile!

Beautiful Fisher Bodies
With their low, graceful, sweeping lines and smart silhouette, their ample room for passengers and their sparkling color combinations and rich upholstery—the new Fisher bodies on the Chevrolet Six represent one of Fisher's greatest achievements.

Outstanding Economy
The new Chevrolet Six is an unusually economical car to operate. Not only does it deliver better than twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline, but its oil economy is equal to, if not actually greater than, that of its famous four-cylinder predecessor.

Remarkable Dependability
In order to appreciate what outstanding value the Chevrolet Six represents, it is necessary to remember that it is built to the world's highest standards. In design, in materials and in workmanship—it is every inch a quality car!

Amazing Low Prices
An achievement no less remarkable than the design and quality of the Chevrolet Six is the fact that it is sold at prices so amazingly low! Furthermore, Chevrolet delivered prices include the lowest financing and handling charges available.

Washington High Gridders Go Into Action Next Week

Large Squad Shows Much Fight In Practice Sessions

By Frank Ferry
Register Correspondent

Washington Union High school footballers will go into action for the first time this season against San Leandro Friday, September 13. There will be many new faces in the lineup. Two other games will be played before the opening battle with league teams.

A squad of forty-seven answered Coach Jess N. Regli's first call, issued the day after school opened. The candidates have been pushed hard this week after being permitted to jog along the first few days.

The probable starting lineup has not been announced. Coach Regli stated he wished to give every man out for the team a chance to show his stuff before selecting the squad.

The complete schedule for the 1929 season was announced as follows:

Non-League Games
September 13—San Leandro.
September 21—Hollister.
September 27—Oakland High.
November 10—Open.
November 23—C. C. vs. A. A. L.

League Games
October 11—Piedmont.
October 18—Berkeley.
October 25—Alameda.
November 1—Hayward.

The following men turned out for football in response to Coach Regli's call:

Paul Aust, Anthony Brown, Vincent Bettencourt, Otello Belini, Ed Bernard, Manuel Brown, James Beveridge, James Cahill, Raymond Crane, George Coley, Eugene Dusterberry, Bill Dick, Alfred Ferial, Manuel Fontes, Ruben Ferry, Joe Tyffe, Earnest Garcia, John Gronley, Roy Gualarte, James Geib, George Gelb, Elmo Grimmer, Fred Hauck, Sam Kerns, Ed Libon, James Logan.

Sidney Laloler, Ted Logan, Frank Mattos, Ed Malfette, John Munger, Louis Neves, Howard Overacker, Wallace Pond, Gordon Pond, Laurence Pine, Clarence Pine, George Robinson, George Rodriguez, Clarence Solto, Leland Silva, Jack Stevenson, Roy Sicado, Melvin Teeter, Leland Telles, Ed Wargen and Augustine Williams.

Although W. U. H. S. didn't have much of a football team last year, it is almost certain that the gridiron honor of the school will not fare badly this season. The team in its practice sessions is full of pep and fight, and if just a portion of that ginger is carried to the field of battle there will be a different tale to tell.

GAS FRANCHISE BIDS TO BE ASKED

Town To Have Natural Gas After Many Years Of Agitation

Service To Supply Sunol And Dublin Also, With Provisions For Rural Lines.

DECLARING an act of public convenience and necessity, the Town Council of Pleasanton last week passed a resolution by unanimous vote of members present to advertise for bids for sale of a franchise "for the right of way to lay or maintain certain gas pipes, mains and conduits for a period of fifty (50) years and to erect, maintain, enlarge and extend a gas, light, heat and power plant and system in the Town of Pleasanton.

The meeting proceeded directly to the business of considering the gas situation after calling the roll, and Edward Schary, representing the Consumer's Gas company, presented the resolution he wished to have adopted, with the franchise. The latter document is drawn up in standard form. The same as that adopted by the Livermore council a short while ago, and appears elsewhere in his paper. The proposal calls for the right to run in either natural or artificial gas, but Schary explained that this was but a protective clause in consideration of the fifty-year duration of the contract, and the uncertainty of continued natural supply over that period. He stated that provision would be made in the final papers obliging the company to use natural gas. The franchise is not exclusive, but another or several others may be granted at any time to other companies.

HANSEN SELECTED AS NIGHT JAILER FOR COUNTY JAIL

VETERAN RAILROAD EMPLOYEE IS DEAD

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the undertaking parlors of C. S. Graham, Pleasanton, for George G. Bayley, who died at his home at Sunol. The services were conducted by the Rev. Robert C. Cross, pastor of the Pleasanton Presbyterian church and were attended by many of his friends from Sunol.

Bayley was born at Colma, Placer county, December 8, 1856. He was married to Grace Baker in 1881. He had been employed by the Southern Pacific company for fifty-two years. Two years ago the company retired him on a pension. He was station agent at Sunol at the time of his retirement.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters, and three brothers.

The big bank where everybody feels at ease

"Trade goes where it is treated best" OLD ADAGE

IT IS said that success creates cheerfulness, good nature, optimism. If this be true, Bank of Italy branches should reflect these qualities to a high degree. They do! A wholesome, cheery atmosphere pervades Bank of Italy lobbies throughout California—and to such an extent that one has a distinctly comfortable feeling in transacting business with this great statewide organization. The old axiom "trade goes where it is treated the best" evidently applies to the growth of California's largest bank. Come and see how pleasant and comfortable it is to bank with Bank of Italy.

WELFARE SHIP CARD PARTY IS PLEASING AFFAIR

Eleven Tables Filled By Guest Bridge Players

Receipts from the Welfare Ship card party in Centerville Thursday will approximate $40, it was announced this week following a checkup of contributions sent by many who were unable to attend. The party was declared a success in every way.

There were eleven tables of players, who competed for the fourteen awards arranged for the high score holders. Mrs. Hudson, of Niles, was awarded the door prize, and angel cake.

The other successful players and the order of their finish were: Mrs. Sahm of Palo Alto, Mrs. Hyglund, Miss Miranda Norris, Miss Elizabeth Dusterberry, Mrs. L. Tyson, Mrs. L. Hunt, Mrs. E. Ellsworth, Mrs. H. Chadbourne, Miss J. McCormack, Mrs. Piers, Mrs. Sturtevant, Mrs. Walpert, and Mrs. Ford.

The hall was beautifully decorated in rich yellow and red. There were large limbs of yellow berries, French marigolds, and zinnias, that in the opinion of the guests would have taken the prize at any fair for size and coloring.

A ship stood on the mantle piece and the napkins were folded to represent boats, in keeping with the name of the order sponsoring the party.

Dividend Printing

There is one kind of printing that you want—printing that pays a dividend on the investment.

A letterhead with right sort of type properly balanced is a real business asset. It wins the approval of the person receiving your letter, and while he is in this frame of mind your letter is read.

The same reasoning applies to any other job of printing. Neatness, the right weight and kind of paper, the color of the ink, the selection of the type, all play an important part in the production of dividend printing.

We are equipped to give you that kind of printing. Let us prove it to you.

Kilkare Woods Offer Seclusion

Situated on Sinbad creek north of Sunol, extending up into the Thermal Ranch country, almost in back of Castlewood, Kilkare Woods offers a quiet and secluded weekend respite from the turmoil of city life that is unsuspected in its existence even by the inhabitants of the surrounding country, so private and out-of-the-way is its setting.

But a few minutes drive from Pleasanton, ten minutes from Sunol, the tract offers many unique and novel attractions not often found in colony home sites of this sort.

Pure running spring water piped all through the place; roads, side roads and trails winding among the trees; rustic bridges, a beautiful stream rushing through the crooked channel eight months of the year, and the fine residences of many notables in public life are to be found here.

Since last fall the entire acreage of this tract has been a game sanctuary, and no hunting of any sort is permitted. As a result, deer, quail, and many other birds and animals seldom seen in hunting season are to be found here unafraid.

A concrete swimming pool, two clubhouses for dancing and entertainment, a large playground, and innumerable trails to high points offer diversion for devotees of the various sports and amusements.

Among the noted personages of the community in this woods is William McKinley McKeever, the "Bard of Kilkare," who has written a poem called "The Song of Kilkare," among his numerous other works. Mr. McKeever's residence is of particular interest for its unique fireplace, built by the author of stones collected in Sonoma county. Quartz, volcanic mud, petrified woods from a forest discovered by McKeever, and other stones not often found here are included in the construction of the chimney.

Another cabin is named "The Wishing Stone" for its chief item of interest, an Indian wishing-stone from the Roaring River gorge of Sequoia National park.

On Sunday and holidays the flag-pole in front of the main clubhouse is adorned with a torn and ragged flag, the donation of one of the club members, which saw service in the Argonne, was used to cover the casket of honored dead, and still bears the bullet holes of battle. Near the home of the tract superintendent at the lower end of the park is an old stone barn, built in 1888, cracked by the earthquake of 1906, but still sturdy and useful.

There are no restrictions of a financial nature—club dues are nominal, and the only building restrictions is exercised at the discretion of the tract owners, who will permit no unsightly shacks to be built, but otherwise offer no curtailment of building privileges.

The average elevation is 900 feet, running up to several peaks some 200 feet high. On these higher points snow was found last winter, and parties from the camp enjoyed battles on the hill tops.

Because of the lay of the hills and absence of cold air currents, fog is entirely absent from these woods.

Personal Items

Mr. and Mrs. James Warren of Niles Canyon, have purchased a new Buick sedan. They own the first car of the kind in Niles. The purchase was made through the Buick agency in Hayward.

Miss Adaline Bernard and friend spent Sunday on a picnic party in Kilkare Woods, near Pleasanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fisher were to have sailed September 1, from England enroute to their home here, according to word received by their daughter, Mrs. Clarence Martinstein. The Fishers plan to stop over in Butler, Pa., for a visit before returning to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peterson and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vogelsang in Oakland, last Friday evening. The Vogelsangs gave a dinner party in honor of Mr. Vogelsang's birthday.

Dr. H. E. Morrison has returned to Niles following a trip to San Diego and Mexican points across the border.

A week-end trip to Byron Springs was made by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peterson and family.

GRAF RECALLS OLD STORY OF ATTEMPT TO BUILD BALLOON

While the Graf Zeppelin swung slowly over the bay region two weeks ago and tens of thousands of eager eyes strained upward into the emptiness of the sky awaiting the arrival of the leviathan, old timers of Pleasanton recalled the dream of one of its former citizens, who more than twenty years ago endeavored to construct a heavier-than-air balloon.

The venture interested a number of people of this vicinity who invested in stock.

The inventor and promoter of the scheme was named Tolliver. He constructed a balloon in a ravine near Verona. According to those who were in touch with the construction work, Tolliver found it difficult to secure financial backing.

Construction work was surrounded by mystery. No one not actually employed at the place was allowed to come near.

Finally Tolliver succeeded in getting the balloon finished and filled it with gas. It floated about a foot off the ground, and during the night preceding its initial flight a piece of lumber punctured the gas bag and the balloon collapsed.

Tolliver was unable to secure additional funds and abandoned the project in this vicinity. He was accused by indignant backers of having wrecked the balloon himself to save his face.

He moved his outfit to San Diego, and there, by virtue of much shiny nickel plate and brass work, succeeded in attracting the interest and financial backing of an Easterner, who sunk all of his funds into the project. When he found that he had been hoaxed, and that his money was hopelessly lost, he shot Tolliver and his wife, and then committed suicide. Such was the tragic ending of Pleasanton's forerunner of the Graf.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS MALLOY IS ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Malloy, head of the domestic science department of the Pleasanton high school, to Dr. Edmund Forrest Anderson, of San Francisco, was announced at a party in San Francisco recently, by Mrs. Malloy. At the same time the engagement of Miss Malloy's sister was announced.

No date has been set for the wedding as yet, and Miss Malloy will continue to teach at least for this term.

BURNS ALL BURNT WHEN STOLEN CAR FOUND UNSTOLEN

When a Mr. Burns, of San Francisco, stepped out of a store at Pleasanton, last Tuesday, he found his car, with about $25 worth of goods had just purchased, vanished.

With visions of thieves and what not, he aroused the local police department, reported the loss, and started the wires humming with descriptions, numbers, etc.

It was not long before the car was located, much to his surprise and embarrassment—in the hands of an insurance company, "repossessed," is the term applied.

It seems that Burns had forgotten or neglected to meet the last payment or payments on his machine, and the company had simply taken matters into their own hands,—and now Burns is "all burnt!"

Trespassers To Be Dealt With Severely, Says Constable

With the arrest of Frank Romano for trespass, and his trial and fine of $25, Constable Al Vervais, of Pleasanton announces that similar offenders will be dealt with severely. Romano was arrested, according to George Thomford, of Frederick's Ranch, Vallecito, who swore to the complaint, for hunting on private property without permission, and refusing to get off when told to by Thomford.

Thomford states that there has been considerable trouble of late in trespassing, mutilating of signs, houses, and other property, and Monday night a cow was found shot near the ranch house. In a notice in this paper he declares that offenders will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, and Vervais has already made plain his stand on the matter.

Several other ranchers have complained of late about the persistence of hunters and trespass-

FIVE DUCK-SIZED EGGS FOUND IN CHICKEN

The goose that laid the golden eggs had nothing on a Black Minorca hen owned by Mrs. S. Chaix of Second street.

Mrs. Chaix noticed that one of her hens was apparently getting too fat to lay, although it was only a yearling and was noticed on the nest quite regularly. Last Saturday, Mrs. Chaix decided to have the chicken for Sunday dinner.

Upon opening the hen, five fully developed eggs were found. Three of the eggs were the size of duck eggs and the other two slightly larger than hen eggs. The five eggs weighed approximately one and a half pounds, and the hen when dressed weighed only three pounds.

The eggs were perfectly formed, but had no shell covering. There were more than a score of tiny eggs in addition to the others.

The hen had developed a "bay window" of such proportions that it almost touched the ground when the hen walked. This did not affect its movements, however, as Mrs. Chaix stated she had to chase the hen for some time before being able to catch it.

DAVIS SPELLING CHAMP
Wilbur Davis, of Pleasanton, son of Judge Davis, won the elementary school spelling contest at the state fair in Sacramento last week. Master Wilbur was given a gold medal and two hundred dollars in cash for his ability in spelling.

RALLY DAY SERVICE PLANNED FOR SUNDAY

Rally Day will be observed in the Niles Congregational church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock immediately following the regular Sunday School hour.

Rev. Elmer G. Brinkmeyer will be in charge of the special program to which he has invited all members and those who have no church or Sunday school home, as well as every citizen of Niles regardless of creed.

Service will be held regularly each Sunday morning at 10 o'clock with Sunday school and class sessions, followed by the worship hour at 11 a. m.

Rev. and Mrs. Brinkmeyer, who are now established in the parish home, have asked the parents to bring their children, and the children to bring the parents to the Rally Day service, and to every Sunday morning worship.

Coast Oil Handles Re-Fueling Of Zeppelin

MINES FIELD, L. A. Aug. 26.—Coursing underground through a two-inch galvanized pipe 1,000 feet long and then lifted one hundred feet up the special mooring mast through one and one-half inch hose, a stream of life-giving Associated Gasoline was pumped through the nose and into the capacious storage tanks of Graf Zeppelin as she rested here majestically.

Associated Oil company engineers, working closely with Emil Hoff, special engineer in full charge of refueling the gigantic monster of the air, designed and installed the special equipment necessary to accomplish this task, one of the greatest and most spectacular deliveries of motor fuel to an air vehicle in the history of the west coast.

Extreme care was necessary both in the installation and construction of the equipment, absolute cleanliness being a positive requirement in acceptance of the gasoline. Each joint of pipe was thoroughly swabbed out with gasoline-soaked rags and screwed together with shellac used at the joints. Three 100-mesh strainers were installed in the system—one of the regular strainer at the tank truck, one at the special centrifugal lift pump, and the third at the foot of the mast.

A control valve is located in the line at the foot of the mast, so that the supply can be entirely shut off against the pump-pressure with out breakage, and the hose at the top of the mast carries a special fitting that can be immediately connected or disconnected from the nose of the ship.

H. W. Wickstrom and F. C. Nybye, Associated engineers in charge of the company's activities at the field, were particularly concerned with protection against fire hazard. All connections were carefully grounded to eliminate any chance of fire by the generation of static electricity. The main pipe line was bonded to a water main and a copper wire was run from the pipe line along the hose to the ship.

Three thousand gallons of Associated Gasoline were on hand at the field, ready for immediate refueling of the monster Zeppelin upon request of its officers. The special fueling crew, each man thoroughly drilled in his duties, was ready and waiting when the world-encircling cigar-shaped traveler first appeared in the heavens above Los Angeles.

FINDS NEW WAY TO STORE EGGS

Small Amounts of Carbon Dioxide Will Be Big Aid.

Eggs can be better preserved if they are stored where there is a certain amount of carbon dioxide in the air, according to Paul F. Sharp of the New York State College of Agriculture, who has just published the results of some experiments on eggs in Science.

Eggs stored in ordinary air spoil rapidly after they lose the carbon dioxide which is a part of the egg. As soon as an egg is laid it starts to become more alkaline and this hastens decay. This alkaline tendency, however, can be easily and conveniently neutralized and controlled if the eggs are placed where the air contains small amounts of carbon dioxide.

This discovery has a practical result because carbon dioxide can be introduced into cold storage rooms in amounts which greatly retard the destructive changes in the eggs and yet the amount in the air will not be enough to prevent workmen from entering the storage rooms. Carbon dioxide can be used also in shipping containers and in refrigerator cars.

A convenient source of this gas can be used, such as the solid form or the gas form in cylinders. Professor Sharp says the only method of preserving eggs which approaches this one in cheapness and practicability is the oil dipping method in which eggs are dipped in a suitable oil which very nearly seals the pores. The carbon dioxide method is superior to the oil method, because the whites of the oil-dipped eggs become cloudy in storage. Those preserved by the carbon are not cloudy after the eggs are removed from the air which contains the carbon dioxide.

Concrete Runs Outside Brooder House Are New

Concrete runs outside of the brooder house are a comparatively new addition to poultry farm equipment, but are coming into use because of several advantages. They enable one to use a brooder house without danger from contaminated soil near them, save the labor of moving portable buildings and make it possible to keep chicks near the dwelling or barns, says a writer in the Rural New Yorker. As they do not have to bear heavy weights, a two-inch thickness of concrete is sufficient, except at the edges, where double that thickness is needed to prevent breaking.

They should be smooth for easy cleaning, have a slope for drainage, two or three inches, according to size, and need not be roofed. They, of course, may be of any desired size, so that they give an ample outside run, preferably not less than that required inside for the same number of chicks. They may have permanent fences, or movable wire covered frames to set upon the concrete. Movable frames will facilitate cleaning. They may be lightly covered with sand, loam or litter, though the essential thing is that they be kept clean to prevent infection from droppings picked up by the chicks running upon them.

Provide Natural Shade for All Young Poultry

An ideal range will provide natural shade where the young birds may find protection from the hot summer sun. Many poultry flocks do not have this natural protection, say poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college, so some means of protection must be provided. Moving the colony houses near a cornfield makes ideal range conditions. Sunflowers planted around the colony house also will provide satisfactory shade. If the colony house cannot be moved near a cornfield and sunflowers are not used, some form of artificial shade should be provided. Old feed bags placed on a frame about two or three feet above the ground will give the needed protection.

POULTRY HINTS

Early-hatched pullets produce fall and winter eggs.

Overcrowding in the poultry house discourages production of eggs.

Sitting hens should be dusted with sodium fluoride before being put on the nest.

Gather the eggs frequently to avoid the dirt that may be carried in on the hen's feet.

Chicks hatched so as to begin laying the first of October are usually the most profitable.

As many farmers have found, profits with poultry can easily be increased by better feed and care.

A small poultry flock properly fed and cared for is more profitable than a large flock given indifferent care.

Protein is a constituent of feeding stuff which is used by chickens for building muscles and tissues, in addition to the production of eggs.

One of the most essential items of equipment for touring which is most frequently overlooked is full tire chain equipment. Often motor campers turn off the beaten path to a grassy slope and find in the morning that sudden rains have caused a soggy mire on which chains are needed.

That oil spot on the garage floor is a silent warning to the motorist that some place on the car some gasket needs tightening.

Did you ever stop to think
EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Okla.

I INTERVIEWED Wilbur B. Forshay, president of the W. B. Forshay Company, who own and operate business in Niles and throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and Central America, as to the value of newspaper advertising in connection with the building of their great business. Mr. Forshay said:

"We appreciate the great things that the newspapers of our country have done for us, and I think without a doubt you get more for your money through the purchase of advertising space in the newspapers than you do for any other money you spend.

"There has been a lot of discussion as to the best means of advertising. To say that any one medium is the best advertising medium is an impossibility because of the diversity of things to be advertised, necessitating a diversity of mediums. From the viewpoint, however, of anyone who wants to get to the biggest number of people with something everyone can use, there is no question in our minds that the newspaper is the best medium.

"Our expenditures for advertising have increased each year, with the exception of 1928, in which year we spent less than in 1927. But we didn't curtail our newspaper advertising in 1928. We curtailed other things and increased our newspaper advertising somewhat over 1927. This year we have increased our advertising program about one-fifth, and will spend about that much additional money over last year. A large proportion of the additional expenditure will go to newspaper advertising.

"WE DON'T HESITATE TO MAKE THE UNQUALIFIED STATEMENT that NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING HAS BEEN ONE OF THE GREATEST ASSETS WE HAVE HAD IN BUILDING UP OUR BUSINESS."

Lowest Bid; Matter Is Under Consideration

Four bids were submitted and opened at the meeting of the Town Council of Pleasanton for the installation of the new pumping plant, in accordance with the notice filed some weeks ago calling for prices on the job. The prices range from $3781.95 to $5250.00, the lowest being submitted by V. M. Kramer of Irvington, with an alternate of $4089.95. The highest bid, that of A. Frederick Anderson, of Oakland, was returned for lack of signature.

The other bids were: Triberti and Massaro of Oakland, $4466; C. A. Bruce and Sons, Pleasanton, $4422.00.

The matter will be held under consideration for the approval of the engineer and examination of data until the next meeting, at which time the awarding of the contract will be made.

San Xavier Del Bac

SAN XAVIER DEL BAC is a great white church near Tucson, Ariz., which reaches well back toward the beginning of history in America.

Somewhat contrary to the general rule, this venerable edifice, said to be the most complete Spanish mission in the world today, faces due south—presumably because of the fact that such supply trains and visitors that might come were likely to approach from the south—Mexico.

Dates connected with its history are confused. It appears to have been established along about 1692, by the aged Father Kino, who set out northwest from the City of Mexico to spread the light of Christianity among the tribes of the North.

Approached from the south, the symmetry and beauty of the mission is decidedly impressive. There are two great towers with flying buttresses on either side of a highly ornate entrance, above which rests a noble dome. One of the towers is incomplete. The reason why probably never will be known. Immediately in front of the church is a walled enclosure which became a burying ground. The Indian believed that the nearer to the church his remains rested the better were his chances of reaching Paradise.

The thick walls of masonry stop the heat without impeding the flow of light, since the sun's rays strike the recess and enter the church by reflection. Inside the air is laden with ages of incense, but walls disclose a decorative effect which appears a bit bizarre, with frescoes of genuine merit—all symbolic, apparently, of San Xavier, in which the shell plays an outstanding part. BOY SCOUTS TO RECEIVE AWARDS AT HONOR COURT

A Boy Scout Court of Honor will be held in Niles on Tuesday evening, September 17, when the scouts who have won merits and honors during the summer months will have the awards conferred upon them. Tonight the Boy Scout committee will hold an executive meeting, and tomorrow evening the first fall session of the scouts will be held.

During the summer Arnold Abbott, Earl Jackson Townsend and Byron Frontz qualified as first class scouts. Merit badges were won by Byron Frontz in handicraft and woodwork; Jack Townsend in cooking; Marshall Green in handicraft.

Abbott and Harry Cesari won their fins last Friday. In their swimming trials they were accompanied by Marshall Green, the scout master.

Many interesting plans for the coming year have been put forward by the scout committee and scoutmaster. A portion of these will be presented to the scouts at the meeting Friday evening, and for this reason, especially, every scout has been asked to attend the opening meeting.

LOCAL STUDENTS ENTER ESSAY CONTEST

Several students at Washington Union High school will enter the $200 prize "California History Essay Contest," sponsored by the Native Sons of the Golden West of Alameda county, it was announced by school authorities this week.

The announcement of judges and prizes were made this week by the lodge members. The judges will include Robert Sproul, Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, District Attorney Earl Warren, Attorney Earl Hayes, William Knowles, and Attorney John J. Allen, Jr., all of Berkeley and Oakland.

The contest will open next Tuesday, September 10, and close October 14, under the following general rules: Contestants must be enrolled students in Alameda county high or junior high schools, or other schools of high school standing; any phase of California history may be discussed; only original essays will be considered; and references used must be given.

The prizes will be awarded as follows: First prize, $50; second, $30; third, $25; fourth, $20; fifth, $15; sixth, $10, and the next ten prizes of $5 each.

The accident occurred, according to police, when two automobiles crashed head-on. One car was attempting to pass another when a third machine coming from the opposite direction loomed up, police were informed.

Frank Gardella was the driver of the car in which Walker and the injured persons were riding, the police report states. The other car was said to have been driven by Guy Butterwick of Oakland. Neither Gardella or Butterwick were injured. The Gardella car was knocked into a ditch and turned over.
